Over the past year, we have embarked on an exciting journey to improve our technology and equipment so that we can provide an even better experience for our customers in 2022. Our pledge to you in the upcoming year, is an experience that is Bigger, Better and Faster.

BIGGER: We have added a new, state of the art, MS Italy printer to our line-up of digital printers. This printer doubles our output capability, which means we can turn around custom print orders faster than ever! This increase in capacity does not mean that we will compromise our quality. We remain committed to providing the best quality custom flags to the reseller market with the most fade-resistant ink and longest lasting material. In addition to adding a new digital printer, we are adding new sewing machines to support our U.S. Flag business. In 2022, we will have more capacity than ever, and we look forward to being your supplier of choice for both U.S. and custom flags.

BETTER: We have invested in multiple technologies that will improve the customer experience in 2022. First, we have installed new software in our printers that allows us to better control color quality through precise ink distribution. Second, we have developed a new website that will provide our customers with online ordering and custom flag template loading which means you can order your products at any time!

FASTER: We know that turnaround time is important to our customers. That's why we are excited to announce the launch of our Custom Express program for 2022. This program turns around custom flags in only 6 days. Check out the exciting details listed on the next page! This program is designed to give our customers a competitive advantage over those who do not purchase from FlagSource. In addition to the Custom Express program, we are upgrading our operating system to integrate with our website for faster order processing. We are excited to gear up for doing business in the fast lane!

At FlagSource, we manufacture the most durable, long lasting American flags in the industry. Our U.S. flags perform better than any other flag available on the market today. Quality is our number one value. If you have not already tried our flags, we welcome you to do so. You will not be disappointed! Our investment in technology and equipment is a reflection of our commitment to quality and our promise to you. Not just in our products, but in our service as well. We recognize we would not be here without you, our customers, and we look forward to providing you with the best experience possible in 2022.

Armed Forces, Military & Service Flags

SUPPORT OUR TROOPS

Our military flags represent the branches of the United States Armed Forces along with several iconic and historical flags. In general, the order of precedence when displaying military flags together is the U.S. National Colors, U.S. Army, U.S. Marine Corps, U.S. Navy, U.S. Air Force, and U.S. Coast Guard. However, in any period, such as in wartime, where the U.S. Coast Guard is operating as part of the U.S. Navy, the U.S. Coast Guard flag would precede the U.S. Air Force flag.

Our Armed Forces flags and garden flags are printed on durable 200 Denier Nylon fabric using inks which are UV resistant and designed to last longer and wear better outdoors.

Digital Nylon Flags

Black Mourning Ribbon

A SYMBOL OF REMEMBRANCE AND MOURNING

An accepted patriotic practice and display of mourning is to attach a black ribbon at the top of the American flag for flags displayed on a short staff or for indoor flags that cannot be lowered to half-staff. This ribbon measures 3"x10' and is suitable for use with a 3'x5' or 4'x6' flag. The ribbon is made from the same nylon as our U.S. flags and is finished with a brass grommet for easy attachment to flag.

Glossary of Standard Terms

Avenue Banner: Banners on brackets that hang from light posts. Generally will always have a sleeve at the top and bottom of the banner.

Back Tack: A reinforcement operation that puts extra stitching on the top and bottom of the fly end. Typically it is no longer than 3/4 to 1" in length. Standard practice on all fly ends.

Bar Tack: A reinforcement stitch/operation that is performed on WaveBanner™ only. It always needs to be performed to areas where there is an exposed chain stitch (heading).

Blockout Innerliner: A piece of material used to block the image from the back side showing through to the front side on a double faced product. For flag sizes 6x10' through 10x15'.

Box Tack: A reinforcement operation that is performed to the fly end. This operation is standard on U.S. flags only. This finishing is unique to FlagSource flags.

Burgee: A pennant with a swallow tail ("V" cut) flag used primarily by ships. All burgees are hemmed on 3 sides with a patch cover at the center of the "V" cut.

Chain Stitch: A series of looped stitches that form a chain like pattern. This stitch time allows our stripes to absorb energy when flying outside.

Color Matching: Matching the thread color to the blank that is being sewn. (White material - white thread). This is standard on all sewn products except the Attraction Product line.

Concealed Heading: A type of finishing where heading is sewn on and turned back so that it is not visible. This process requires that a single stitch be run along the bottom of the heading to keep it turned back.

Cut Size: The dimension material is cut before it is sewn.

Double Face: Copy reads correct on both sides (two pieces of material are sewn together).

Double Sided: Copy reads correct on both sides on only one piece of material.

Double Sleeve: Primarily used in conjunction with Avenue Banners. The standard size sleeve is 3".

Electronic Heading: A type of finishing that is used specifically for electronic flag poles. This process utilizes webbing material and is finished with the top and bottom edges finished like heading and d-rings, but d-rings are not used.

Finished Size: The dimensions a flag, banner, or other products measure after they are sewn.

Fly End: Four rows of stitching on the outer edge of a flag (away from the flag pole).

Grommet: An eyelet made of brass to strengthen or protect an opening or to insulate or protect something passed through it.

Guidon: a rectangular flag with swallow tail at fly end.

Heading and D-Rings: A type of finishing that is used on FlagSource flags 8x12' and larger. On flags, 10x15' and larger a #4 grommet is also inserted.

Heading and Grommets: A type of finishing that is standard on all flags. In general, the heading and grommets are on the left side.

Innerliner: A piece of Tyvek® used to block the image from the back side showing through to the front side on a double faced product.

Leather Tab: A piece of leather that is sewn into sleeves or pole hems that allows a flag to be attached to a pole. Primarily is used with indoor poles. (see Pole Hem Plain)

Lock Stitch: A sewing machine stitch formed by the looping together of two threads one on each side of the material being sewn. A bobbin is inserted into the machine for a bottom thread. This stitch type is used on all outer edge hems.

Paper-Transfer Dye Sublimation: Aqueous ink is embedded into a layer of coating on the transfer paper, which is then applied to polyester fabric with heat and pressure. The ink permanently becomes part of the fabric.

Patch Grommet: A type of finishing where a layer of material is sewn in as a patch and a grommet is inserted. The patch is necessary for a grommet to not pull out of the product.

Pennant: Triangular pieces of fabric primarily used for attracting notice. Hemmed on two sides with heading and 2 grommets or sleeve on the left side.

Pillowcase: A special type of hemming done on certain double sided flags. Designs that won't line up edge to edge get pillowcased or if there is an angled or some other special finish to the flag.

Pole Hem Fringe (PHF): A type of finishing that will fit over a pole. It is a sleeve that has a lining sewn in with a leather tab that is sewn in at the top center position. There is also fringe sewn on the outer hems of the flag. The standard size pole hem is 3". Spanish Yellow is the standard color for fringe, however, we also offer white.

Pole Hem Plain (PHP): A type of finishing that will fit over a pole. It is a sleeve that has a lining sewn in with a leather tab that is sewn in at the top center position. The standard size pole hem is 3 inches.

Raster Art: An array of square pixels of various colors, which together form an image. When enlarging a raster image, each pixel increases in size and causes the image to become blurry. Quality depends on how many pixels are contained within an inch. The higher number of pixels-per-inch (ppi) the higher the quality. Not a preferred file type.

Reinforced Hem (reinforced grommet): Primarily used on banners and can be used in combination with a small hem. The reinforced grommet will allow a grommet to be affixed to it.

Single Face: Copy reads correct on one side and the reverse side is a mirror image.

Single Sided: Copy is on one side of material and the back side is blank.

Single Sleeve: Primarily used in conjunction with Avenue Banners. Material is folded over once and sewn down. The standard size sleeve is 3 inches.

Six Row Special: Six rows of stitching on the outer edge of a flag.

Sleeve: A type of finishing that will fit over a pole. The standard size sleeve is 3 inches. Sleeves can also be sewn closed at the top (also known as a simple sleeve). Fits 1"-1¼" diameter pole.

Starfield: Material with stars either embroidered or sewn on.

Vector Art: Vector graphics are comprised of paths which are defined by a start and end point along with other points, curves and angles. A path can be a line, square, triangle or a curved shape and can be filled with colors. These paths can be used to create simple drawings or complex diagrams. They can be scaled to a larger size and not lose any image quality.
